Comments:

It was deceptively chilly for the spectators on summer season eve though ideal for the fell runners. The ground underfoot was largely dry, though some runners did find the soft peaty stuff. Adrian Martin was the organiser of the Glaisdale Fell Race, second counter in the Dave Parry Lets Runs Summer fell race series 2023, the race s come thick and fast from now on with 14 races in a just under 4 months.

There were a 100 starters, with a short Dave Parry-esk runner briefing the competitors were off. The first half of the near 9 mile race is largely uphill to the trig point on Glaisdale Rigg, the remainder is then undulating before a long descent technical in places to the finish but not before a short uphill home straight.

It was a race long battle between Keith Wigley Swaledale Runners and Joe Leadley Loftus and Whitby AC which Keith just won out by three seconds at the finish. Arne Dumez Middlesbrough AC Mandale completed a senior runner podium with Tim Grimwood Swaledale Runners first vet home in fourth.

Not awarded on the night, the mens team went to Swaledale runners with Keith and Tim supported by Steven Devlin and Michael Devereux Cole.

Catherine Williamson (v40) Loftus and Whitby eased to the womens victory in ninth overall. Nikki Carr Walls of Scarborough AC finished second with Rosamond Kruger Thirsk and Sowerby Harriers third. Supported by Rosie Gatenby and Helen Ashworth Thirsk claimed the team victory.

Thanks to all the helpers, next event is the Whorlton Run on Wednesday 7th June 2023.
