Comments:

Eskdale Eureka, the tenth counter in the Dave Parry Lets Run Winter Fell Race Series 2024/25, now definitely at the sharp end of the series, with four events in the series remaining after this one.

It was a chill, bright morning, a slight breeze and some frost still in the ground, registration at Castleton Cricket Club started slowly with organisers pondering whether the competition from the Middlesbrough half marathon and Yorkshire cross country potentially drawing runners away, as it was 103 signed up for this classic toughish medium distance North York Moors fell race.

Thanks must go to organiser Sid Bollands and his volunteer team from Cleveland Mountain Rescue who provided support to the event, along with volunteers from the running community. The teams coffers were also swelled with £500 as proceeds from race entry fees, £20 of individual contributions on the day and a £180 cheque presented by Malcolm Peggs of Loftus and Whitby AC.

The start of the Eureka is a toughy at the bottom of the opening climb, the race doesn't become any easier as descents and ascents arrive at regular intervals, and when not on the tarmac the footing is technical and runners cannot relax.

In the tale of the tape it was Toby Antcliff (MSEN) Sheffield Orienteering and Fell Running Club, who returning to seek redemption for a wrong line on the final descent in the 2024 race when Sam Leadley claimed victory from the jaws of defeat, who raced to the win in just under 66 minutes, and only a minute shy of Harry Holmes's course record. Runner up and first veteran was Jayson Carvill (M45) Pickering Running Club just over a minute back and in third continuing his good form was Stephen McDougall (MSEN) Middlesbrough and Cleveland Harriers pipped Ewan Sewell (MSEN) York Knavesmire Harriers by six seconds.

To add to Ewan's prizes, partner Victoria Sewell (FSEN) went a bit better and eased to the win in the women's race in 75 minutes, the next two positions were claimed by veterans, with Jemima Jones (F40) Thirsk and Sowerby Harriers runner-up and Sarah Hackett (F50) Richmond and Zetland Harriers third, with Kimberley Cavill (F40) Pickering Running Club making it two couples in the top four.

Jim Rogers (M60) City of Hull ran well to place 16th overall and first over 60, and Sue Haslam (F70) Scarborough AC placed 12th female home.

In the team competition, Loftus and Whitby AC women were the first threesome home, though with the benefit of a ghost runner as their third, York Knavesmire Harriers duo of Victoria Sewell and Cassie Read will win out (i missed this on the day and prizes await at a later race). Esk Valley Fell Club men (Rorie McIntosh, Thomas Naisby, Stephen Pugh and Neil Rip Ridsdale) eased to the win from York Knavesmire Harriers.

Entries are now open for our first wholly new event of 2025, The Hooded Horse Fell Race organised by Lorraine Hiles of Thirsk and Sowerby Harriers via SI Entries which is the final counter in the winter series.

Next event in winter fell race series is the eleventh counter Blakey Blitz (FULL KIT must be carried) on Sunday 16 March 2025, volunteers required please, registration is at the Lion Inn from 9.00am, race start at 10.30am and remember allow 5 minutes to trot or 10 minutes to saunter to the start from registration.
