Comments:

The vagaries of the summer series weather continued at Whorlton Run, fourth counter in the Dave Parry Lets Run Summer Fell Race Series 2026, with seemingly the UK set in a pattern of fronts moving across the nation and with it moderate winds and showers, albeit the temperatures remain relatively mild.

The stars aligned for the event, with the Black Horse now open for pre and the more likely post race refreshments, last year it was subject to a refurbishment and before that it was closed due to the up and down nature of the hospitality industry.

Whorlton Run is one of our oldest run races, it started as an attraction at the village show post WW2, principally held on the roads and lanes, latterly it was picked up and tweaked to include fell terrain and became part of the Dave Parry midweek training race series, becoming now an established Summer Series event.

Thanks must go to Shelli Gordon our Race Organiser for the event, along with the many volunteers from the running community, thanks also to Whorlton Parish Council, hosting registration in the Village Hall, as well as parking and the finish line in the Sports Fields, which a contribution from this race supports. Thanks to local landowners who allow access for a section of the race.

In the tale of the tape it was Caroline Lambert FSEN Keswick AC on an easterly trip from her now adopted home in the Lake District who eased to victory in the women's race and fourth place overall. The men's winner was George Langford MSEN York Knavesmire Harriers, though it could have been oh so different if a marshall's timely reminder had not guided him back on course.

Second places went to Scott Coates MSEN North Leeds Fell Runners and Rhona Marshall F40 Scarborough AC who placed 11th overall, and completing the podium were Kirsty Struthers FSEN North York Moors AC and William Bowers MSEN Tyne Bridge harriers.

The women's team competition was won by North York Moors AC at a canter though the remaining places were hard fought. Esk Valley Fell Club men returned to winning ways with a comfortable victory.

Surplus proceeds from the race, were split £200/£200 between maintenance of the sports fields (Whorlton Parish Council) and CALM (Campaign Against Living Miserably).

There is a short respite for fell runners with three weeks until the next event, Toms Bransdale Fell Race on Wednesday 24th June 2026.

Cheers

Clive
